Ind AS 109 Financial Instruments

INTRODUCTION

Ind AS 109 based on International Financial Reporting Standard 9 ("IFRS 9") is the accounting standard replacing IAS 39 that defines the classification, measurements and impairment of financial instruments. It is designed to make annual reports more meaningful to investors as well as simplify how auditors implement the rules and introduce safeguards to limit credit losses. This standard also made significant changes by introducing a logical, single classification and measurement approach for financial assets that reflects the business in which they are managed and their cash flow characteristics.

Impairment of financial assets is built on a forwardlooking expected credit loss model instead of the existing 'incurred model'. The new impairment model will result in more timely recognition of loan losses and is a single model that is applicable to all financial instruments subject to impairment provision. The new Standards also improved the hedge accounting model to better link the economics of risk management with

OVERVIEW

Financial Instruments is a concept that even seasoned professionals still face issues mastering. The program covers all aspects including measurement principles, key definitions, derecognition, derivatives, hedge accounting, impairment of financial assets and other areas. There are multiple case studies and scenarios covering detailed insight of various aspects of Financial Instruments covered in a simplified manner. This course is aimed at equipping the participants with the knowledge and skills to understand Ind AS 109 and how to adopt the new international accounting practices in financial reporting. In addition, it addresses the requirements of Ind AS 32, covers the disclosures in Ind AS 107, and the principles of fair value measurement in Ind AS 113.

This course provides an in-depth explanation, application methodology and strategy implementing Ind AS 109 on financial instruments, including hedge accounting and the treatment for expected credit loss. Delegates will focus on implementation issues and challenges and discuss case
